

Tales of 3rd Grade

Happy New Year! Our third grade classroom is hoppin'! We've been really busy learning and practicing different reading comprehension strategies, and so far have done a great job with sequencing and theme! In religion, we've been learning about God's love for us through Joseph's story. We've learned that God provides for us in all situations! In math, we are hitting the multiplication facts hard! The kids have a blast playing a facts racing game for extra practice! We are also learning to plot and compare information on line graphs. In science, we have just wrapped up a unit on rocks, minerals, and fossils. A major highlight to this unit was making fossil molds and casts out of clay and glue! We're looking forward to our 100th day of school, in which several fun activities have been prepared! Stayed tuned for more third grade action!
